MEDICAL INFORMATION FORM

Instructions: It is important to the success of your experience abroad that your host program/institution be aware of your health-related needs and/or concerns. We encourage you to be proactive about health concerns while abroad by discussing them early on with a health or disability counselor on campus and with the on-campus coordinator. Accommodations you receive in the United States may not be available at your host program/institution. This information is sought to help you and your host institution explore the availability of appropriate medical and psychological services abroad, including medications. Please feel free to share with us the following information. Please note that based upon the information you provide, you may be asked to provide further documentation from your health care provider before we authorize your participation. Please note that some prescription drugs may not be legally obtainable or readily available in some countries. If you are currently taking a prescription drug on a regular basis, it is YOUR responsibility to take these factors into account as you prepare for studying abroad.
